rice dishes. Food and tea will be for sale.

Mrs. Adelaide Bond, widow of Calvin

T. Bond, former residents of Barre Town, is critically ill at her home in Rumney,

N. H., having sustained a shock last Wednesday night. Dr. E. H. Bailey of Granville was called to her and left on Thursday morning, taking a nurse,

Miss Hutchinson of this city, with him.

Mrs. W. J. Dukette left Wednesday night for Boston to meet her husband, Sergt. W. J. Dukette, who was returning from overseas on the Santa Rosa. A telegram received this morning by Mrs.

Dukette's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George

J. V. Kover, Mgr.

Rev. and Mrs. Harold Bolingbroke of South Mountain, Ont., arrived in the city early this morning and will remain here for two weeks, during which time Rev.

Bolingbroke will occupy the pulpit at the Presbyterian church as a candidate.

He comes highly recommended by a former pastor of this church and the official hope that a large number will be out to hear him.

Storekeepers on North Main St. were busily engaged to-day cleaning windows that had been decorated with figures relative to the basketball game won by Spaulding. Hardly a window was passed by the celebrators last night when they set out on the chalking expedition to paint the town white, or rather the windows. One who did not hear the victory bell peal forth its message last night soon learned after appearing on North Main street this morning the team which won the game.

"The last of the winter series of ladies' nights at Vincella club was held last evening when a program was given, consisting of vocal solos by Miss Henrietta Ingles and Douglas Ingles and several selections by Landi's orchestra, and dancing and card playing occupied the remainder of the time, with a buffet lunch served at about 10 o'clock. Landi's orchestra played for the dancing. The attendance was not as large as usual but the evening was very enjoyable.

Groote Winkel, the big bazaar of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs, which opens at the city hall in Montpelier April 28, is no ordinary fair. The hall will be fitted up as a Dutch village, not with rough, temporary structures trimmed with cheesecloth, but with beautiful little Dutch houses, handsomely painted and complete in every way, and the centerpiece, a genuine Dutch windmill, with its huge revolving arms, forming the very acme of realism. Nothing approaching it in elaborate completeness and beauty has been seen here, and the interest that it has already aroused by the tremendous advance sale of tickets.—ad.
